Unit 10 Lesson 9

Focus Verse

“Intreat the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death only.” – Exodus 10:17

Bible Story

Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and told him that if he did not let the Israelites go, God would send swarms of locusts, bugs like grasshoppers, to Egypt. God said that there would be so many that the Egyptians would not even be able to see the ground! Pharaoh was angry, but he brought back Moses and Aaron and told them that they could go and worship God. But he wanted to keep some people behind, so he said that only the men could go on the trip, not the women or children. This was not what God wanted, so he sent the plague of locusts. The locusts ate everything in their path—crops, plants, everything green. Pharaoh desperately called Moses and Aaron and promised to let the Israelites go if Moses asked God to take away the plague. So, Moses prayed, and God sent a strong wind that blew away all the locusts. But Pharaoh changed his mind again and did not let the Israelites go. God was not done. He covered Egypt in thick darkness for three days. It was so dark that people could not see anything, and they had to stay inside in the same spot. Pharaoh was scared, but he still would not let the Israelites go.
